Jack Shi is a business faculty member at Belhaven University teaching courses related to many MBA China Program courses, as well as Excel course for traditional undergraduate level.

Professor Shi started as an adjunct professor at Belhaven University in March 2019 and became a full time business professor in March 2020. Professor Shi received his B.A. (English- Chinese) Translation, DaLian Translation College (China), and he received both M.B.A., Finance and M.A. (TESOL) from Mississippi College.

Before joining Belhaven University, Professor Shi worked as a financial analyst at Ergon. Inc. and also worked as a government compliance analyst at Vertex Aerospace.

Professor Shi likes to tell all his students “Dream for the best, prepare for the worst; Always have a plan B.”. Professor Shi enjoys teaching and communicating with students from all over the world, and he believes teaching and learning should be fun and interesting. Professor Shi also believes students should use what they have learnt in college and apply it in the real world and make the best out of it.
